

Your complete sealant solution

Architects, project managers, specifiers and property developers all agree that Den Braven has a sealant or adhesive for every construction area which requires quality seals, gap filling, permanent anchoring, expansion joints, crack filling and fire retardants, with high joint movement tolerances.

They know that Den Braven products are low in volatile organic compounds, non-toxic, CFC free and recyclable, and as environmentally friendly, sustainable and human health-friendly as possible. They meet the highest international rating standards set by the Green Building Council of South Africa.
